Combine More Probable.

There is a gas war brewing in Brooklyn that local financiers think will either result in competition that will lower prices to consumers, or else force the companies to form a big combine.

The key to the situation is in the inside pocket of Gen. Jourdan, President of the Pul-ton-Municipal. His company has been furnishing gas for several years to the Metropolitan, People's and Union companies.

These contracts expire next Fall, and if they are to be continued new ones will have to be signed next January.

Judge Freedman will decide the case this afternoon.

Lawyer Meyer claimed that the allegations of Cora Brown, that shy was a single woman before she met Barcenas, were untrue, as a former hearing showed. The young man was a comparative stranger in this city, he said, and even should tue ball be reduced, he would have to depend on the kindness of the Nicaraguan Cousul here to secure a bondsman.

Full is Doctor McCoy that his discovery may not fail from proper preparation that he personally manufactures every particle himself without assistance.

In offering the discovery that he new remedy is not painful in its application, cannot possibly cause any injury in its ure, and where the catarrh has not destroyed the barts which it affects it will successfully combat the disease and affect. man.

Mr. Meyer alleged further that the complaint was ingeniously drawn, making it appear to Judgo McAdam, who granted the pear to Judgo McAdam, who granted the order of arrest, that Harcenas and Corat rown were actually married, when that was an issue. Barcenas, besides, had been a month in Ludiow street-sail, and the lawyer suggested that if bail was reduced from $10,000, its present figure, $300 would be considered obtainable bail.

Lawyer Goldsteres' objection to the motion was based on Section 567 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which provides that a motion to vacate an order of arrest must be under within twenty days after it had been executed. Thirty days had already classed since Harcenas's arrost, and the motion was consequently out of order.

much confused.

"I believe in the justice of my client's case," he retorted.

"I do not," was Judge Freedman's emphatic retorted.

"I do not," was Judge Freedman's emphatic repoinder.

Judge Freedman then brought matters to a close by stating that he would vacate the order of arrest unless good legal objection offices, 5 East 42d Street, New York, was offered.
